New MINISTRY PARTNER: WELLSRING WOMEN'S NETWORK

Linda Guzha

Linda Guzha was born in Zimbabwe and immigrated to the US with her husband. As a mother of three, she was diagnosed with cancer. When it was hopeful to call herself a cancer survivor she knew she needed to do something to care for the many needs back home.

In 2008 Linda, along with friends and family, formed Wellspring Women's Network (WWN) to make a difference in the lives of young women. WWN will help them stay in school or assist them to become a business owner, empowering them to support their children. Wellspring started the Girl's Access To Education (GATE) program which provides school scholarships and uniforms for disadvantaged girls. It also provides Comfort Kits for girls that include educational material on HIV/AIDS, puberty, and hygiene—including reusable sanitary products. (A set of ten pads is just seven dollars and gives a girl the ability to stay in school so that graduation is possible.) A microloan program offers $50 to start small businesses, which includes sewing and raising chickens. The loan program will allow another group of entrepreneurs to grow their businesses and care for their families once a woman has repaid her loan.

GHI is honored to partner with Wellspring Women's Network and the team of women from Zimbabwe. GHI is accepting financial gifts for the purchase of supplies for the Comfort Kits and to fund more micro business loans.

We Want To Give A Special THANKS to those who have been giving to the general fund of GHI in 2010. YOU have determined that the basic premise of GHI "racial and ethnic reconciliation and discipleship" is something that demands attention and promotion. The many projects of GHI STAND ON YOUR SHOULDERS. While GHI projects are focused on making reconciliation and discipleship happen, YOU have chosen to provide help to lead and guide and serve those who are working these wonderful projects.

we welcome YOUR GIFTS TO PROVIDE FOR THE GENERAL FUND!

HERB in Croatia
with Mihal Kreko in Croatia

Herb Klem, GHI's CEO, made his second trip to Zagreb, Croatia this April to be the key note speaker at a national conference for the Baptist Union of churches. During his first visit he was asked by Pastor Mihal Kreko, his former student at Bethel Seminary, to visit his church and attend the conference to lead a devotional for the gathering of pastors. After the conference many of the attending pastors commented that the call to reconciliation and forgiveness was a key reason they were able to tackle the difficult decisions they were faced with making at this meeting. Dr. Klem was asked to attend this year's conference to again lead them in prayer and teach on the issues of reconciliation still facing the Serbian and Croat people in their churches. After the conference Herb was taken to several towns and visited individual churches to meet with the pastors and lay leaders to further assist in developing a program to mentor pastors.

MINISTRY Update—EMMAUS Associates
Paul's recent trip to East Asia to encourage pastors and leaders in ministry

Imagine you are a female head of a household...with no husband, son, or father who is the "breadwinner;" you are nearly invisible to those around you. With no other options, you live as a squatter on some land you have cleared from the forest and you do not know how the few, but much needed crops you have grown will get harvested when you find yourself hospitalized with malaria for an unknown length of time. Imagine going home from the hospital and finding all your crops gathered by your neighbors and friends, just for you...

This is just one of the stories I heard in a recent visit to Cambodia to begin an evaluation of what I've been involved with since 2007. It is remarkable! Female heads of households have more financial security, neighbors are more involved with one another, projects are being developed to suit specific needs and commerce blooms to help everyone involved.

MINISTRY Update—GNTCS
New Level of Certification

In March, GNTCS received the accreditation team made up of professors and lecturers from three other universities and staff from the National Accreditation Board. It was tough, but they were very impressed at the high quality of the programs.

We must also share with you the loss of a dear friend, Mr. James Ocran who works with us at the OAIC. He was 81. He was a member of Calvary Methodist Church, Adabraka and is pictured above with his wife, children and grandchildren.

New Ministry Partner:
UGANDA ORPHAN RURAL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT
(UORDP)

Donna Foley is a dear friend and partner in ministry, however, we have only known her a few weeks. It is clear the work she has already done to represent the Ugandan Orphan Rural Development Project (UORDP) here in the US makes her a friend we will treasure for years. URODP is a Ugandan led grassroots holistic development organization that is meeting key needs of some of the most vulnerable and needy children in the country. Donna has been personally gathering friends and family to sponsor or assist URODP and will be traveling to Uganda this month to personally meet many of the children currently being sponsored. Please see their web site at www.uordp.org for more information on their ministry. GHI is proud to partner with them and assist with receiving gifts on their behalf.
